PIERCE ELECTED TO COURT POST BY WIDE MARGIN

Two Antioch Precincts Go to Lyon; Vote Close in Lake County

William L. Pierce, Republican candidate, was elected circuit judge in the Seventeenth Judicial District Tuesday by a majority of 9,719 votes over George R. Lyon, Democrat. The three Antioch precincts returned a margin of only 17 votes for the winner—335 to 318—and Lake county as a whole gave the veteran Belvidere lawyer an edge of only 695.

Heavy Republican majorities in Boone, McHenry and Winnebago counties, however, placed the final results at 25,136 for Pierce and 15,417 for his young opponent from Waukegan.

The effectiveness of the Democratic campaign in Antioch is testified by the fact that Lyon carried two of the three precincts. In the first precinct Lyon outstripped Pierce 172 to 152, and in the third, 37 to 26. Pierce carried the second 157 to 109.

Pierce Carries Rockford. The urban support in Waukegan and Rockford, which the Democrats had hoped would give Lyon a winning lead, failed to materialize. Waukegan returned a slim majority for its "native son," 1,850 to 1,583, but Rockford gave Pierce an edge of 7,244 to 4,845 to more than wipe out Lyon's home-town advantage.

In six of the Lake county urban communities, the vote ran as follows (Lyon's total quoted first): North Chicago—845 to 349; Highland—225 to 441; Zion—227 to 491; Lake Forest—127 to 339; Highland Park—400 to 441; Libertyville—307 to 478.

Pierce carried 17 out of 24 rural precincts in Lake county, including the thickly populated districts of Cuba and Lake Villa. Lyon tied his opponent in two precincts and won in only five. Unofficial returns in Lake county gave Pierce 48 of the 78 precincts, and a tie in two others.

The unofficial total votes in the other three counties were reported as 6,266 to 3,189 for Pierce in McHenry, 3,475 to 457 for Pierce in Boone and 8,666 to 5,736 for Pierce in Winnebago.

When the official canvass is completed and the returns verified by the state canvassing board, Pierce will be declared elected to serve out the unexpired term of the late Judge Edward D. Shurtliff of Marengo.

He will hold court for Boone and McHenry counties, with circuit courts at Woodstock and Belvidere.

Soo Line Special Races With Death

In the early morning, a week ago today, a Soo Line special train rushed through Antioch in a literal race with death.

James Helmer, 23, of Stevens Point, Wis., had been stricken with infantile paralysis. With no iron lung available either in Madison or Milwaukee, his only chance for life depended upon record-smashing trip to Chicago, where he could be placed in a respirator.

Permission to make the attempt was obtained from the young man's father, a Kewanee, Ill., dentist, and state health officials—and a coach equipped with oxygen tank and special humidifiers sped on its way toward Chicago.

Maintaining a speed of 75 to 80 miles an hour over most of the 250 miles, the special car drew into Chicago in a little over 6 hours, although a burned-out bearing had necessitated a change of engines at Fond du Lac.

Young Helmer was placed in a waiting ambulance and rushed to St. Luke's hospital. Twenty minutes after he reached the city he was ensconced in a respirator.

But the dramatic trip proved futile. Helmer died a few hours later.

Catholic Group to Hold Penny Social on Sunday

A large turnout is anticipated at the Penny Social which will be held at St. Peter's hall Sunday afternoon and evening. The affair is under the sponsorship of the Holy Name Society of the church.

A number of different games will be offered for the entertainment of those who attend, and refreshments will be served. The entertainment will start at 2:30 p. m.

Proceeds from the social will be used in the interest of the church.

Two Pairs of Skates Offered as Prizes

There's a free pair of genuine Nestor Johnson "Hi-Speed" shoe skates waiting for two industrious Antioch school students—and they might as well be YOURS.

The Lions club wants 10 grade and 10 high school students (either boys or girls) to sell tickets for the benefit movie it is sponsoring at the Antioch theatre Dec. 20 and 21.

To the one in each group who sells the most tickets will go a pair of skates—or a cash prize equal to their cost, if desired. All other student salesmen will receive a commission of 5 cents on each ticket sold. You can't lose!

BUT, only the first ten from each school who apply for tickets can enter the contest. The contest starts Friday.

Time: 8 a. m.

Place: O. E. Hachmeister's Market.

On your marks.

State Officers Test Students, Teachers for Driving Ability

If, in the future, any member of the present high school student body or faculty is involved in a traffic mishap on account of a visual defect—it won't be because they weren't warned to be careful.

Starting last Friday and continuing through Monday, Paul J. Walburg, state safety engineer from Elgin, and State Traffic Officer Edward Edmond subjected all the students and teachers to both visual and written tests to determine their driving efficiency.

There were four questions which Mr. Walburg said were most frequently missed; see how you make out on them, without taking too much time for deliberation.

Do You Know?

(1) A car going 40 miles per hour can stop in twice the distance of a car going 20. True or false?

(2) The driver who strikes the rear of a car ahead because of a sudden stop is at fault even though the other driver failed to signal. True or false?

(3) Following an accident, the first thing to do is to determine which of the two drivers was at fault. True or false?

(4) In one second a car traveling at 60 miles an hour goes approximately 120 feet—90 feet—35 feet?

Visual Tests

Following the written quiz, each individual was subjected to a series of visual tests to determine ability to judge the distance of oncoming cars, color (traffic lights) and to discover the presence of near or far-sightedness and astigmatism. It was a bit dismaying to watch the results of the distance-judging test. It certainly emphasized the need for caution in passing cars when others are approaching from the opposite direction.

Oh, yes. The answers to the questions are, respectively: False (more than that), True (stay far enough back), False (first see if anyone is injured), and 90 feet. How did you do? Tabulated results of the school tests will be published next week.

William Cisna Again Tops the Honor Roll

William Cisna, it appears, is in a class by himself among the Antioch High school scholars. Announcement of the honor roll for the second six-week period again finds the sophomore super-student at the top of the list, having the position all to himself just as at the end of the first period, with five 90's to his credit.

Twenty students earned four grades in the 90's during the period just completed: Joyce Anderson, Virjean Hook, Doris Klass, Betty Madsen, Irene Pachay, Florence Peterson, Roberta Selter, Joan Smith, Richard Hartnell, Billy Morgan, Marjorie Doolittle, Dorothy Jacobsen, Dora Martell, Lucille Waters, Yvonne Jensen, Charlene Jorgensen, Helen Thompson, Kenneth Ledling, Russell Doolittle and George Hawkins.

Three 90's were earned by: Marjorie Ferris, Ethel LaFleur, Richard Luedike, Frank Petty, Hazel Dowell, Jean Jerry, Raymond Baetke, Elizabeth Erickson, Arlene Phillips, Ellen Snyder, Dorothy Wolf, Harrison Martell, Robert Denman, Andrew Penne, Charles Hawkins, Wilson King, Virginia Ames and Betty Grimes. The honor roll listed 28 with two 90's each, and 68 with 1.

Beg Your Pardon

It was erroneously stated that the fire department was going to flood the ice rink. The flooding is being done by the village board with Fred Peterson in charge.

BUILDING INDUSTRY REVIVAL SEEN AS KEY TO PROSPERITY

Ed Vos Says Construction Industry Is Business Barometer

The building industry is facing an opportunity to lead the nation into an era of increasingly good business and resumed recovery in the opinion of E. F. Vos of the Antioch Lumber and Coal company, who has just returned from a building "clinic" in Chicago attended by more than 400 building material dealers from this section.

As a result of his observations at the conference, which was sponsored by Johns-Manville, Mr. Vos believes that the present recession in business activity is temporary and that there are sufficient construction economic factors to assure a resumption of recovery for at least the next two or three years.

He declared, however, that the construction industry apparently held the key to the situation and that stimulation of home building particularly, would result in a general upswing in a phases of industry and business.

One of the main reasons for the current slackening-off of business is due to the decline in home building, Vos believes.

"This isn't logical, however, as the cost of building and owning a home today is still much less than it was in the 1925-29 period," he stated. "The house of today is much superior to anything that could be built then because of great improvements in materials and methods while long-term, single mortgage financing makes owning cheaper than renting."

"Of course," he continued, "home building costs have risen from the panic lows of the depression but so has practically everything else. People should not be blinded to the real facts by false and misleading propaganda about unduly high construction costs."

Mr. Vos pointed out that data presented at the meeting he attended, showed convincingly that today, a home is the best investment the American public can make.

Christmas Seal Sale Lags in Lake County

"White Plague" Fund Nearly $900 Behind 1936 Receipts

Receipts from the annual Christmas seal sale in Lake county were $211.03 on Monday of this week, $87.75 less than on the same date last year, according to announcement made by the county Tuberculosis Association.

Every contribution large or small is of great importance in raising the necessary funds to finance the work of the association. It is pointed out by officials who urge all citizens to aid the sick and protect the well by buying and using Christmas seals.

In spite of the steady improvement of our diagnostic methods only 13% of tuberculosis cases admitted to Sanatoria are found to be in the early stages of the disease and this means there are far too many unrecognized cases in every community infecting their families and neighbors. Only by finding every single case can the disease be stamped out.

The work of the Lake County Tuberculosis Association is to find these unknown cases in our community; constantly seeking examinations for all suspects, and examinations even where the disease is not suspected are important. Every case whether active or inactive should be traced to its source, examining all contacts that the source might be controlled.

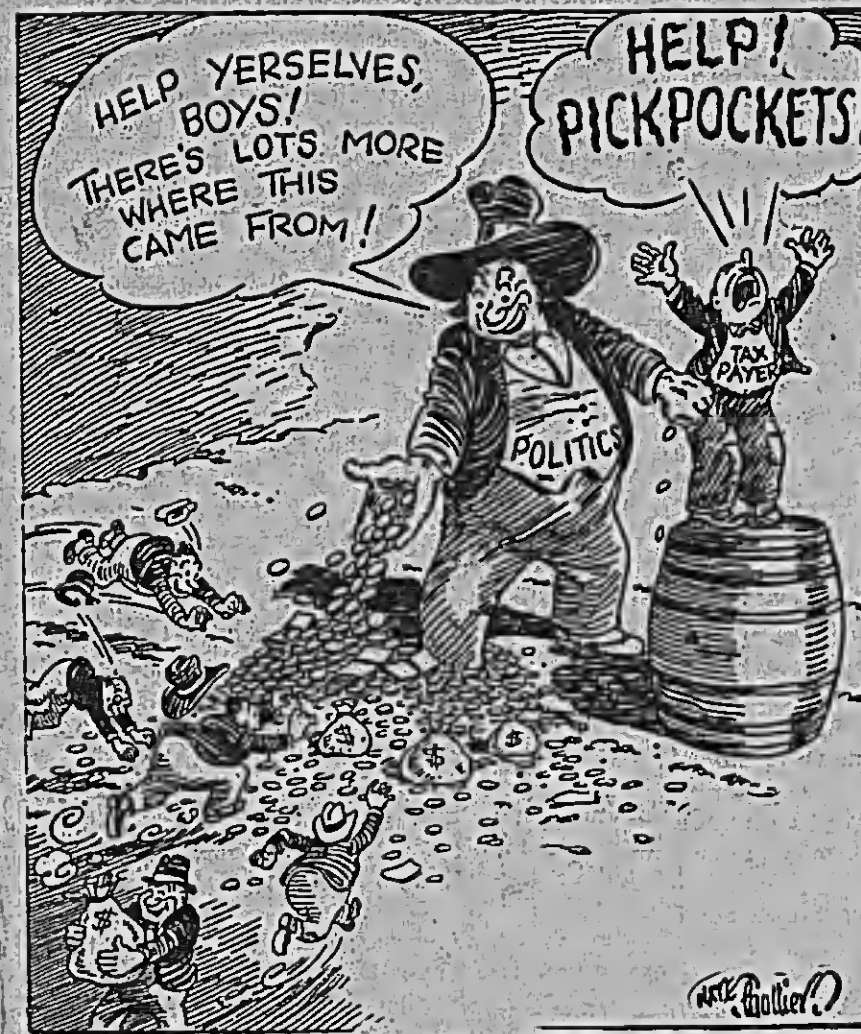

All this means that the cooperation given the Christmas Seal Sale last year must be continued this year in order to carry on the same program. It would be a matter of grave concern if any part of the work should have to be discontinued.

Colored Team to Play Town Quintet Monday

The Antioch town basketball team, which plays in the Benton A. C. league under the banner of Murrie's Service Station, will play two games on Monday evening with Doc King's All-Nation cagers of North Chicago. Both the "varsity" and reserve quintets will play full-time contests, the first game starting at 8 p. m.

The games with the two colored teams will be played on the Antioch High school floor. No admission will be charged, but a collection will be taken during the evening to help defray expenses.

THE MODERN "LIBERAL"

LIONS CLUB BRINGS FEATURE FILM HERE FOR TWO BIG NIGHTS

"The Bride Wore Red," at Antioch Theatre Dec. 20-21

One of the outstanding feature movies of the year, "The Bride Wore Red," featuring Joan Crawford, Franchot Tone and Robert Young, will be shown at the Antioch theatre Monday and Tuesday, December 20 and 21, under the sponsorship of the Antioch Lions club, with F. B. Swanson, theatre manager, co-operating.

The play has been heralded as one of the finest ever produced in Hollywood, in addition to the extremely interesting and tense plot of the play, it portrays a fashion and style show seldom seen on the screen.

In connection with advance sale of tickets the Lions committee, headed by O. E. Hachmeister, tomorrow morning will launch a unique contest in which ten students each from the Antioch Township High school and pupils of the 7th and 8th grades will be given opportunity to compete for a pair of genuine Nestor Johnson "Hi-Speed" shoe skates, one pair going to the winner in each group, while non-prize winners will be given 5 cents for each ticket sold as a reward for effort. Winners may have the option of accepting the prize skates or their equivalent in cash. Further particulars of this contest will be found in another column.

Two shows will be given each night, at 7 and 9 o'clock. There is no advance sale of children's tickets which may be purchased at the box office. Proceeds from the show will be used for community work by the Lions club. Other shows and entertainments are being considered to add to the funds for this worth while purpose.

Grade P.T.A. Forum to Hold 'Men's Night'

It will be "Men's Night" at the meeting of the Grade School Parent-Teachers Forum Monday evening. All officers for the one meeting will be filled by the men and the program will be in their charge.

Cletus Vos has been selected as president pro tem. The other officers will be: Charles Tidy, secretary; Dr. E. J. Lutterman, treasurer; and Dr. L. J. Zimmerman, program chairman. A talk on "Safety and Accident Prevention" will be given by Charles Mee, Transportation Superintendent of the Public Service company of Northern Illinois. He is a former head of the company's Safety and Accident Prevention bureau.

The new sound film projector from the High school will be brought down for the meeting to show a one reel film on safe driving, entitled "Saying Seconds."

Christmas carols will be sung by the seventh and eighth grade girls glee club.

Ralph E. Clabaugh, grade school principal, will give a talk on "Home-work" before the Parent-Teachers association of Rockland elementary school at Libertyville next Tuesday.

Mrs. V. B. Feller spent Tuesday afternoon in Waukegan.

Wagner Funeral Held Yesterday in Chicago

Funeral rites for George Wagner, Sr., 49, were conducted Wednesday at St. Theresa's church in Chicago, followed by interment at St. Joseph's cemetery in that city.

Mr. Wagner died early Sunday morning, following months of suffering from cancer. He had been under treatment at Kenosha hospital since July 16 of this year.

For 19 years an Antioch resident, Mr. Wagner had been head of the Antioch Milling company ever since its establishment in 1918, the year in which he moved to this community. He was recognized as one of Antioch's most progressive business men.

He was born in Austria-Hungary on Sept. 14, 1888, the son of Adam and Katherine Wagner. He came to the United States in 1904 and made his home in Philadelphia, Pa., where he lived for three years. In 1907 he moved to Chicago, where a year later he married Margaret Schoenherr. They made their home in the city until 1918, when they moved to Antioch.

He is survived by his wife; a sister, Mrs. Katherine Gibson of California; a daughter, Mrs. Margaret Schneider of Chicago; one son, George Wagner, Jr., of Antioch; and two grandchildren, the son and daughter of Mrs. Schneider.

Parents, Teachers Will Hold Second Forum Tomorrow

"Beyond the Text Book" will be the theme of the second Parent-Teachers forum, to be held at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening at the high school auditorium.

Previous forum meetings have been devoted to discussion of regular class subjects, including various experiments which have been conducted at Antioch High school. The discussion Friday, according to Principal L. O. Bright, will—as the theme suggests—go beyond the matter of class material and methods.

The meeting will be confined to two subdivisions, "Guidance Work" and "Grades and Honors." Miss Cornelia Roberts will lead discussion of the first topic, and H. H. Reichers will direct discussion of the second.

Miss Roberts has studied the subject of student guidance at both Chicago and Columbia universities and has gained considerable knowledge of the problem through her activity in the State Deans' association, of which she is now secretary.

The entire high school faculty heard a discussion of "Grades and Honors" by Dr. John Guy Fowlkes of Wisconsin U. at Kenosha last Monday, which they followed up with a two-hour meeting of their own on that subject Tuesday evening. Consequently, many interesting ideas should be brought out at the forum.

Mr. Bright urges all parents who possibly can to attend, as not only should the discussion be exceptionally interesting but they will also have an opportunity to see in operation the sound picture equipment recently purchased by the school.

Two reels of film have been ordered for the occasion. The title of the first is "Teaching with Sound Films" and of the second, "How Talkies Talk."

Mrs. H. H. Perry attended a bridge luncheon at the home of Mrs. Stella Peterson of Lake Villa, Thursday.

LIGHTS ORDERED AS DECORATIONS FOR CHRISTMAS

Village Board to Dress up Main Street for Holiday Season

Downtown Antioch will officially recognize the advent of the Christmas season next week with glowing streamers of colored lights.

At the monthly meeting of the village board, Tuesday evening, an expenditure of $125 for the purchase of street decorations was approved. Money accumulated from food license fees will be used for buying the strings of lights, according to Village Clerk R. L. Murrie.

"In this way," Mr. Murrie pointed out, "the merchants who paid the fees will receive direct benefit from the license fee fund."

Plan for Future. It is the plan to spend the license money in this manner for the next few years, until the village has acquired a really first class set of decorating equipment, to be of such a nature that it can be used during gala occasions throughout the year.

An order for the lights has already been placed and it is hoped that they can be erected before the middle of next week. The Village Lighting Committee, of which Robert Wilton is chairman, will be in charge of the decorating. Walter Scott and L. D. Powles are the other members of the committee. They will be assisted by Fire Chief James Stearns.

Merchants are urged to cooperate with the decorating committee by using Christmas trees and other appropriate decorations in dressing their windows for the holiday season.

Tree Ordered. A village Christmas tree has also been ordered. The tree, which is the center of the annual Christmas eve party for the children of Antioch, will probably be placed north of the Antioch Hotel, where it was situated last year.

Gifts of candy and fruit for this year's event will be provided by the Lions club. As usual, Santa Claus will be on hand for the big occasion—and will be able to make his trip in the traditional sleigh from present appearances. It will be remembered that the absence of snow forced St. Nick to come by auto last year.

Damage from Blaze Estimated Over $800

Between 250 and 300 select White Leghorn chickens and a poultry house, with a total value of more than $800, were destroyed by fire early Monday morning as the Antioch Fire department answered a futile call to the Klaus Mark farm near Trevor.

Rousted out of bed at 2 a. m., the firemen found themselves unable to do much about the blaze. It is believed that an overheated stove in the building started the fire.

Tony Collins, employee of the Antioch Milling company who is tenant on the farm, estimated the value of the destroyed poultry at $300 to $350. The chicken house and equipment was valued at $500.

Loss on the latter was covered by insurance to the extent of $250 on the building and $50 on the equipment. The chickens, however, represented a total loss.

Nearly all Antioch was awake and wondering before the fire siren stopped its long-winded wailing—and except for invertebrate fire truck followers, all were very happy that they weren't obliged to join the smoke-eaters on their frigid jaunt. And even the habitual blaze chasers were able to control that impulse, for once.

ARRESTS — NONE

Two weeks ago the village board announced the opening of a campaign to collect delinquent food license fees owed by trucks serving Antioch stores. It was announced that some 20 chain store and wholesale house vehicles had failed to pay the required fee. With the "campaign" two weeks old, the score now stands: additional fees collected—none; arrests for negligence to purchase license—none.

BOARD ACTS ON LIGHTS

Two more street lights will be placed on the all-night circuit and a new light erected as a result of action taken at the meeting of the village board Tuesday evening. The two lights between Park and Ila avenues on Main street will burn all night hereafter and an additional light will be placed at the corner of Harden street and Highway 173.

Prophets of Despair

There are pessimists who make speeches and write books about how the future holds no promise, and how there are no new frontiers, no new horizons toward which America can march. And there are others who say that if we are to move forward at all, we must scrap our time-tried ways of doing things and start all over again with a new system.

Charles F. Kettering, who heads the research division of General Motors, has an excellent answer for persons in both those groups. He is an excellent illustration of the progress an individual can make, for he was born a poor farm boy and now is a vice-president of one of America's biggest corporations. He says:

"Suppose, for each year since mankind has been able to write, we had a letter on file expressing what people thought of the past and of the prospects of the future. Let us go back and pick out a letter somewhere along the line. I don't care where, and open and read it. This letter would read like this: 'We don't see how the world got along in the old days because they had none of the things we have, but we don't see much possibility of improving things in the future.'"

Kettering gives an even more apt illustration by quoting a letter written in 1905 to the Winton Automobile Company by the great Andrew Carnegie, who said:

"We are greatly pleased with our new Winton. From the very start it has done its work and never failed us. There may be improvements yet to come even in such autos, but it is difficult to see much room for them."

No room or chance for progress? For better and better living? The prophets of despair obviously don't know their history.

Government and Business

Not very long ago President Roosevelt said that the recovery of business during his first Administration was not the result of pure chance or a mere turn of the wheel in a cycle: "We planned it that way and don't let anybody tell you differently."

Confronted now by the fact that a very substantial recession of business has taken place, he has quoted an economist to the effect that "the continuance of business recovery depends far more upon business policies than it does upon anything that may be done, or not done in Washington." According to this reasoning, when business is good the Government deserves the credit and when business is bad the fault lies with business.

Government policies have raised production costs, and now propose to raise them more. Government taxes have prevented the plowing back of earnings into new equipment which would lower prices and widen the market for production. Government deficits have aroused a fear of still higher taxes than those which now prevail. Government competition has discouraged the investment of private capital in a great industry, the public utilities, where new construction has been lagging far behind the normal rate. Government regulation has overstepped the bounds of protection of the public interest, in some cases, and become essentially punitive in character.

It is somewhat unreasonable, in these circumstances, to ask business single-handedly to check a recession which governmental policies have helped to bring about.

Cost of Living

In his letter to the Federal Trade Commission, President Roosevelt asks that agency to investigate reports that "monopolistic and other unwholesome methods of competition" have contributed to the increase in the cost of living which has occurred during the past year.

Unquestionably, retail prices have been rising. The question before the Federal Trade Commission is to discover what part of this increase can properly be attributed to the practices of which the president speaks.

It is possible that some part of this increase is the result of monopolistic practices, and the Federal Trade Commission is the proper agency to discover how much, and to take action to halt such methods. But it would be a totally unrealistic picture of the course of events during the last four years which failed to take account of the extent to which the policies of the Administration itself have been responsible for rising prices.

The Administration devalued the dollar, specifically for the purpose of raising prices. It restricted farm production, with the same end in view. It has worked consistently to increase wages and to shorten hours, two factors which necessarily enter into the making of prices. And it has been forced by its own large expenditures to increase taxes. It would be astonishing, in these circumstances, if the cost of living had not mounted.

Use Trench Silo to Salvage Corn

Farmers Turn to a Simpler Method of Saving the Damaged Crop.

By E. W. Lehmann, Department Agricultural Engineering, University of Illinois, WNU Service.

With the cost of a temporary trench silo limited to the cost of the labor, farmers generally will be turning to this method of salvaging corn and providing extra livestock feed next winter.

Trench silos can be built easily and quickly with materials and equipment found on the farm. They are fire and wind proof, and less freezing results than with an upright silo. As the silage does not have to be blown so high, less power is required to operate the silage cutter. A tractor, horse or truck may be used to pack the silage.

Trench silos are usually dug six to eight feet deep and the silage fed from one end. Less spoilage results when they are placed at one or both ends. A hillside location is best for removing the dirt and later the silage.

As there is usually some spoilage in the top layer, it is recommended that the ears of corn be removed from the stalks which make up the top six inches of the silage. Corn may be put in the silo without being cut. However, to exclude air pockets the stalks are laid close together and packed well. This method is not as satisfactory as when the corn is cut because the stalks are difficult to remove and the danger of spoilage from air pockets is greater.

After the trench is filled up to two of three feet above the ground level, it is necessary that it be covered well. While there are several methods of covering, the one most often used is four to six inches of dirt with the dirt extending about two feet past the edges of the silo.

Some Cows Unprofitable;

Culling Found Necessary

A close culling of the dairy herd may be necessary in many sections because of the shortage of feed, believes H. A. Herman of the Missouri College of Agriculture.

Those cows that may well be eliminated first include poor producers and breeders, disease infected cows, and those with defective udders. In considering the heifers, it is wise to keep those sired by bulls whose daughters have shown the most promise as producers, and those of the best producing cows in the herd. Sometimes, good yearling heifers can be retained if they are fed only an adequate growing ration.

The choice breeding stock is usually culled as sparingly as the feed available will permit. Experience has shown that communities in which such stock has become depleted in times of emergency require several years to replace the loss. A few good cows well fed will return more net income than a larger number of inferior ones on inadequate rations.

Dairy Hints

The difficulty of producing quality milk and cream increases during hot weather, but a little extra precaution will help greatly.

Keep utensils clean. Use a brush and washing powder. If scalded with boiling water, utensils do not need to be wiped.

After rinsing, put the utensils in a sunny place away from dust. Then rinse them with clean, cold water before dumping milk into them.

Always wipe the cow's udder with a clean damp cloth before starting to milk. Always milk with clean, dry hands.

Use a fresh strainer pad for each milking.

Do not pour freshly drawn milk that is still warm into milk that has been cooled.

Feed hay after milking to avoid contamination by dust.—Wallace's Farmer.

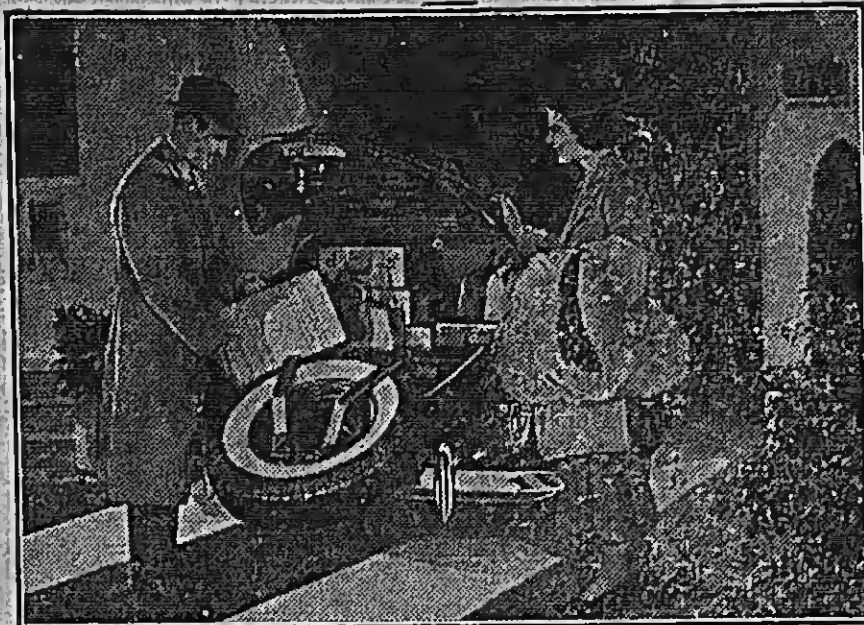

Wheat Absorbs Selenium

Selenium, the chemical element used in some light-sensitive cells, is absorbed from soil containing it by wheat grown on seleniferous fields. Not only is selenium absorbed by wheat and concentrated in the grain itself, but it is an active poison, according to W. O. Robinson, of the bureau of chemistry and soils. The danger from this source can be avoided by careful examination of imported wheat since there are few areas in the United States where selenium occurs in the soil in quantities offering a hazard and these are already carefully mapped. There is, however, an added danger in the import of wheat from unknown areas which may contain selenium.—Scientific American.

Clean Cows

Nearly every authority recognizes that the state of cleanliness of the cow's udder, flanks, and belly at the time of milking influences the quality of milk. The condition of the barnyard has a direct influence on the state of cleanliness of the cow. Muddy, dirty yards result in dirty cows which then require a considerable amount of hard work if they are put in proper condition for milking. Graded drained barnyards have an advantage.

Here's Ample Room for Luggage

LUGGAGE compartments in the six new body types of the Lincoln-Zephyr V-type 12-cylinder cars for 1938 are exceptionally roomy, as the above photo demonstrates. The compartment, reached through the rear deck hatchway, also encloses the spare tire and its supporting frame. When the deck is lifted, tire and frame are revealed. These can be swung down out of the way (as pleinrod) to give access to the luggage space. The compartment is amply big enough to stow the touring luggage of an entire family. The new Lincoln-Zephyr cars are longer and more dashingly sleek than their predecessors, displaying an entirely new impression of motor car styling. Wheelbase has been increased to 125 inches.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"God the Only Cause and Creator"

was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, December 5.

The Golden Text was, "The heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament sheweth his handiwork. There is no speech nor language, where their voice is not heard." (Psalm 19:1, 2).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "The Lord reigneth, he is clothed with majesty; the Lord is clothed with strength, wherewith he hath armed himself; the world also is established, that it cannot be moved." (Psalm 93:1, 2).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science Textbook: "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Jesus acknowledged no ties of the flesh. He said: 'Call no man your father upon the earth; for one is your Father, which is in heaven.' He recognized Spirit, God, as the only creator, and therefore as the Father of all" (p. 31).

A larger crowd than usual gathered for worship last Sunday. In considering the subject, "Light," it was noted that in the story of creation all goes back to the inherent creative power of God, the source of all power.

At His word, physical, mental and spiritual light was produced. Emphasis was placed on Spiritual Light, which comes through Christ and must be reflected in the lives of His followers if the world is ever to escape eternal loss in spiritual darkness.

Therefore, "Let your light shine." The subject next Sunday will be, "Self Examination." Text, Psalms 139:2-3.

HORAN GIVES TIPS FOR XMAS MAILING

Postmaster, Clerks Request Cooperation to Eliminate Rush

Seeking cooperation from Antioch residents during the Christmas rush toward speedy handling of mail, the personnel of the Antioch post office advises patrons how they can help lighten the handling of the extraordinary increase in parcels.

The post office workers point out that extra mail car space is needed to handle the Christmas rush and last minute mailings and very often extra trains are run over railroads to accommodate patrons.

Wrapping, Addressing Explained

Parcels, after being well packed and securely wrapped, should be addressed on one side only because in handling at the post office, endorsements, such as Insured, Special Delivery, etc., must be placed by the clerk on all addressed sides of the parcel. At the delivery office such endorsements must be looked at by the delivery clerk entailing a great amount of extra labor and time in handling these parcels.

No communication should be placed within the parcels since to do this means that first class postage would have to be collected. Placing a sheet of paper or card having the name and address of the sender within the parcel is advisable. Parcel post of value should be insured and it may be expedited by sending "special handling" or "special delivery." All parcels are required to have a return address and that should be placed in the upper left hand corner, while the address should be placed in the lower right hand corner.

"Unsealed" Regulations

First class mail rates are: Between postoffices, 3c; for rural delivery, 2c; and for local delivery or drop letters, 1c. First class mail must be sealed.

Printed Christmas cards may be mailed in unsealed envelopes to any point in the United States at the rate of two ounces for 1½ cents and must contain no message other than a greeting. Merry Christmas, Happy New Year, etc., with the signed or printed signature of the sender is permissible. This is third class mail and cannot be forwarded to another destination nor can it be returned to the sender without a new pre-payment of 1½ cent. First class mail is forwarded or returned providing a new address is on file at the office of the address or if the letter has a return address.

Valuable first class mail should be registered and air mail service, requiring only about half the time to reach a distant destination, is available at 6c per ounce rate or fraction thereof. If there is any doubt that mail is overweight, the post office advises that it be weighed to avoid delay in delivery.

Obituary

Mrs. Emily A. Mann
Emily A. Wilmarth was born at Galena, Ill., August 21, 1855; the second child of seven born to Philip and Charlotte Wilmarth. Her childhood was spent in Galena where she was educated in the public schools.

She was married to William A. Mann on Dec. 22, 1875, and in 1892 they moved to a farm in Lake county. Two years later her husband died, April 10, 1894. With two daughters and a son, the family lived at Hebron for about 20 years, where Mrs. Mann was an active worker in the Presbyterian church.

In the spring of 1930 she came to live with her daughter, Mrs. Austin Savage of Antioch. Due to a heart ailment she had been in poor health for some time, and she passed peacefully away on the morning of Nov. 27th.

She leaves to mourn her death, two daughters, Mrs. Myrtle Savage of Antioch, Miss Josie Mann, Waukegan, and a son, Harvey Mann, Waukegan; also three grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at the Strang funeral home in Antioch Tuesday, Nov. 30, with Rev. S. E. Pollock officiating and burial was in the Hickory Union cemetery. H. M. Turner and Mrs. Charles Bailey of Hebron, with Miss Alice Bailey as accompanist, sang two beautiful songs.

Relatives attending from a distance were: Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Winans and Leo Charlton, Apple River, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Winans, Warren, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. L. Winans, of Maywood, Ill.

Murrie Cagers Win First League Game

Murrie's Service Station five opened its campaign in the Benton A. C. basketball league last Thursday with a 27-13 victory over Sabine's Fine Foods. In the two other opening games played on the local high school court, Edith Wolfe's Bar-B-Q trimmed Sam's Barber Shop crew, 30 to 16 and Fieldcrest club walloped the B. B. Sweet Shop 26 to 8.

Bob King and Johnny Drake were "red hot," the former scoring more points for the Murrie quintet than the entire Sabine team could tally. His 14 points and Drake's 10 were the high individual scores for the evening.

This evening the second round of league play will take place on the Antioch High gymnasium. Murrie's will battle the lanky Barber Shop outfit in the opener. Wolfe's will defend its clean slate against Fieldcrest in the second game, and Sabine's and the Sweet Shop will clash in the finale. Play will start at 7:30.

The Chicago fire of October, 1871, is rated as the most disastrous fire of modern times, the loss exceeding the entire assessed valuation of many

WAUCONDA DEFEATED BY SEQUOITS, 27-24

Antioch Cagers Prepare for Battle with Warren on December 17

Off to a good start with a 27-24 victory over Wauconda in their opening game of the conference basketball season, the Antioch High cagers have been hard at work this week preparing to make it two straight. Warren High of Gurnee is the next target of the Sequoits. The traditional rivals will meet here on Dec. 17.

A four-point lead in the first half enabled the Antioch five to eke out a victory last Friday. Trailing 16 to 12 at the rest period, Wauconda played the Sequoits better than even, the rest of the way and outscored the Indians 12 to 11 in the last two periods.

Sharp-shooting Jack Effinger, ably supported by Russ Doolittle, supplied the scoring punch for the Sequoits. Jack swished the net five times from the floor and once from the free throw line to total 11 points, while Russ rang the bell four times from the court and twice from the gratis stripe to account for 10.

Jack Riddell and the Hawkins brothers, George and Charles, completed the Antioch scoring with four points, one and one respectively. Koppen led the Wauconda outfit, tallying nine points from his forward position. Wauconda outstripped the Sequoits in personal fouls, 14 to 10, and lost their center, Turnbull, via the four-penalty route.

With Roger Brogan holding the opposition even with eight points, the Sequoit lightweights downed the Wauconda bantams in the curtain-raiser 14 to 8. The Antioch aggregation presented a defense their opponents could not solve, the home team snagging but a single basket in the entire game.

Antioch's slim 6 to 4 lead at the half was rapidly expanded after the rest period as Brogan got the range. Blackman registered one basket from the court and Rothers, Dalgaard, Davis and Manning each tallied a free throw to bring the Sequoit total to 14.

Mr. and Mrs. George Nutt of Clemson College, S. C., returned to their home Friday after visiting six days at the home of Mrs. John Hancock.

Dust or Bait Is Army Worm Cure

Calcium Arsenate Used for Some Crops; Poison Bait for Others.

By C. H. Brannon, Extension Entomologist, North Carolina State College, WNU Service.

There are a number of methods of controlling the fall army worm. Dust calcium arsenate on crops not burned by this material; on other crops such as corn, beans and peas, apply lead arsenate dust to cover the plant thoroughly.

Small plants like alfalfa and crabgrass may be protected with applications of poisoned bait. This is especially recommended where the worms have almost destroyed the crop.

The bait can be made at home with one pound of paris green to 50 pounds of wheat bran. Add two gallons of molasses that have been thinned with water, and stir thoroughly. Then pour in enough water to make the bait crumbly, but not soupy.

Fifty pounds of bait is enough for five acres. Apply it broadcast in the evenings, and do not allow poultry or animals access to treated fields. Smaller amounts of bait can be mixed in the same proportion.

If desired, two pounds of calcium arsenate may be substituted for the pounds of paris green in the bait.

When the worms are migrating, they can be trapped by plowing a deep furrow at right angles to their course of advance. Shallow holes dug at intervals in the furrow and filled with gas oils or kerosene will kill the worms.

Where it is not possible to plow a furrow, a thin line of coal tar placed a little distance ahead of the worms will keep them from invading neighboring fields.

Famous Americans Urged Planting of Red Clover

Just who brought the first red clover to the New World is still a question, but records in the United States Department of Agriculture report that many men famous in Colonial history urged its growth.

As early as 1633, Lord Baltimore asked his settlers to bring good stores of clover seed, but there is no record that they did. William Penn in 1685 tells of success in growing English grass (red clover) and that Robert Turner, a wealthy merchant planter sowed "great and small clover."

Benjamin Franklin, about 1750, wrote that he had "seeded 30 acres to red clover in Philadelphia on the 23rd of August." Nearly 25 years later his "Poor Richard's Almanac" told of "An experienced method of sowing clover on barley."

George Washington in 1786 wrote that seed of red clover was obtainable "on easy terms" in Virginia. It was in these years — the reconstruction period after the Revolution — that extensive cultivation of clover began.

Water Hemlock Poison

Cicuta maculata, also known as water hemlock, is deadly poisonous to live stock. It has such a vile smell when the leaves or stems are broken that one would not expect live stock to eat any of it, but cattle will at times, and with fatal results, especially when the plant is full of sap. Children have been poisoned by eating the fleshy roots, which taste a bit like parsnips. This is a vile plant, which should be killed out or fenced in so thoroughly that no cattle can get to it. The flower heads look a little like wild carrot, but are larger. Most farmers know this plant in localities where it grows, but many do not know its poisonous qualities.—Rural New-Yorker.

For the Farmer

Skimping on protein for pigs wastes other feeds.

Farmers use 26 per cent of all trucks sold in this country.

Noxious weeds can be most easily destroyed during weather that is hot and dry.

According to a recent study, farmers commit less crime than men of any other occupation.

Under average conditions a bushel of corn, when on the cob, will occupy about two cubic feet.

Turnips are largely used in England and Canada for feeding of stock. They grow best in cool weather.

Bone chewing in cattle is a sign of phosphorus deficiency in the ration. Feeding bone meal corrects the condition.

On an average, dairymen raise or purchase enough heifers to replace from one-fourth to one-fifth of their herds each year.

When the pasture becomes drier and the feed scarcer, the cow does not get as much to eat and additional feeding of grain is needed.

Making soil tests in each field and then setting down the results of the tests on a map of the farm will give a permanent record for use in a soil improvement program.

Save Grass Seed, Expert's Advice

Red Clover, Alfalfa, Will Be in Great Demand, Growers Are Told.

Supplied by the United States Department of Agriculture.—WNU Service.

Pointing to the prospect of reduced supplies of grass seed this season, Dr. A. G. Black, chief of the bureau of agricultural economics, recommends that farmers make every effort to save all possible red clover and alfalfa seed.

Farmers in many of the principal seed-producing regions will harvest a little less than half as much grass seed this year as last, he said. The timothy seed crop is less than one-third as large as last year's crop of 128,223,000 pounds, while redtop appears to be around 40 per cent of last year's production of 9,750,000 pounds.

There is a relatively large carry-over of timothy and redtop, a fair sized carry-over of blue grass seed, and much above normal stocks of sudan grass seed.

Dr. Black said that the situation as to legume seeds is not definitely known because most of the clover seeds are harvested later than the grasses, but present conditions are unfavorable. The crimson clover seed crop of approximately 1,000,000 pounds, is about one-third smaller this year than last. White clover is a substantially larger crop than last season, although the 1935 crop of 450,000 pounds was much below normal. The carry-over of clover seed is unusually small.

The harvest of the red clover and alfalfa crops, two groups of seeds that will be needed most next spring, will not be completed until later. There is, therefore, still time for growers of these legumes to make a special effort to save the seed where they are not forced to cut the crops for hay, Dr. Black said.

Drouth Silage Problem

Faced by Many Farmers
What is the feeding value of fodder or silage made from drouth-damaged corn? How much feed will such corn yield per acre?

The yield of feed per acre depends so much upon the amount of growth attained before cutting that it is impossible to generalize on the probable production in any one case. Tests at the Indiana station, however, indicate that corn cut just after it has completed the pollination stage will produce about one-half as much dry matter per acre as when it is cut at the hard kernel stage — the point most favored for normal silo filling. In the Indiana experiment, corn cut at four feet in height produced less than one-tenth as much dry matter per acre as when it was permitted to stand until the hard kernel stage.

As for differences in feeding value, the limited information available indicates that fodder or silage made from drouth damaged corn will probably run a little higher in protein, pound for pound, than ordinary fodder or silage. On the other hand, it runs lower in sugar and starch and does not keep as well. Thus, drouth damaged corn may not make silage of as high quality as normal corn, but it will be good feed, nevertheless. — Wallace Farmer.

Rye for Live Stock

Rye, sometimes used for live stock, is not a very satisfactory feeding material. If limited to 20 per cent of the ration in dry lot feeding of hogs, however, rye may be 90 per cent as valuable as corn, pound for pound, says a writer in Wallace Farmer. When ground or cracked, it also compares fairly well with corn as a feed for beef cattle. Rye is liked least by horses and best by sheep. In the case of horses it should be coarsely ground or crushed and fed only as part of the ration. Sheep, on the other hand, will handle unground rye as well as the same amount of barley. Rye used as a live stock feed should contain very little, if any, ergot. The presence of ergot is indicated by purplish, abnormal kernels. In particular, ergot kernels should be kept away from pregnant animals.

A '37 Slant on This Week in The News of 1901

EDITORIAL EXCERPTS:

"Twice within recent years the people have placed the Democratic party in control of the government upon promises which were proclaimed to be for the best interests of all concerned. But each time when they attempted to put their theories in force they fell down, went to pieces, failed, and were promptly turned down. Is it probable that the people since March 4, 1897, under Republican administration, have become weary of prosperity, peace and plenty, and will embrace the first opportunity to change the program? We would guess not."

How English editorial comment has changed in the past few decades! Perhaps we should say, editorial comment in general. Where, today, would you find such a comment as that following which the News quoted from The English Review of Reviews? "We have no one crowned or uncrowned, who can compare as a probable hero with Theodore Roosevelt. We have only Edward IV at Windsor, whereas at Washington they have for the first time a President young, ardent, magnetic, successful and full of fire and go."

And said the News: "There is a large amount of injustice in the rule which attaches to Congressional bills the name of the chairman of the committee which reports them, irrespective of the member who introduces and deserves credit for them." That complaint is outmoded today, when so frequently the person actually responsible for a bill isn't even a member of Congress—and probably wouldn't care to take "credit" for it anyway.

ANTIOCH COMMENT: A plea by the editor appeared on the front page—to wit: "While you are remembering your friends with Christmas gifts, why not look up the tag on your paper and see how your subscription stands? If you find yourself in arrears, why not remember the editor with the arrearage and to show your goodwill to him pay him a year in advance? The editor toils early and late that you may have a paper, and get all the local news. Surely the laborer is worthy of his hire and his Christmas will be merrier by receiving what is due him." We believe the editor had something there.

"A pleasing feature of the program at the handkerchief bazaar, Dec. 21, will be a pantomime illustration of the parable of the Ten Virgins by ten young ladies." And a goodly crowd was there, we'll warrant.

Nor was the pantomime the only feature promised. As an added feature the Y. W. C. U. was billed for a flag drill, "well worth coming to see."

"One night last week a stranger stopped at the Simons house and departed sometime during the night taking with him two overcoats belonging to Ernest Simons, and has not been heard from."

NEWS NUGGETS: "The Henpecked Husbands' association has been formed at Ferguson, a St. Louis suburb. The object is to promote a forgetfulness of sorrows." (By drowning?)

"The citizens of Arizona are making every effort to get the favorable attention of Congress to their appeal for statehood."

"To save an estate, an unusual wedding was solemnized at Tieg, Pa., when Miss Mina Harris was married by proxy to Carleton Wells, young farmer of DeKalb, Ill. The couple were to be wed at Christmas, but recently an uncle of the bride died, leaving her a large estate, if she were wed to Wells within 30 days. En route east, Wells took down with pneumonia. So facing a picture of the groom and with a friend of Wells' answering for the missing man, Miss Harris took the wedding vows and saved the inheritance. Tomorrow night—"East Lynne."

Ned Hanlon, manager of the Brooklyn baseball club, is said to receive the enormous sum of $12,500 for his services.

President Hart of the Chicago

baseball club announces that he will favor readoption of the agreement entered into by the National League magnates before the past season opened, that no team shall begin its preliminary work before April 1, and that the southern trips be done away with."

ADVENTURES IN ADVERTISING: Ladies, for "lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, 'all-gone' and 'want-to-be-left-alone' feelings, blues, hopelessness," remember Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"Get rich! Buy Bledsoe Gold Stock—10 cents per share. Thousands of tons of low grade ore on dump. Mill being constructed to work same; 90 days after construction will pay dividends. Sure thing. Suppose the mill is finished yet?"

This appeal was made to horse dealers; if they'd put out a model for fractious husbands they'd really have something. "Does he kick, shy, balk, run away or have any bad habits? If so you can Cure Him with my pulley Breaking Bridle."

"Heiress! Only 22, with $100,000 worth of coal mines, timber lands, plantations and money, desires husband's management and protection at once. Address SUSIE X, Drawer H, Chicago, Ill. There must have been a mistake, somewhere."
